

Evan Tilley

elt2141

Competitor Research – Mushroom Website

www.mushroom.world is a competitor that provides users with a database of mushrooms to learn about.

Search The Mushroom Database

On this page you can search the mushroom database based on the name or some property of the mushroom. Please enter the data in the text box below in order to perform the search.

Please, take also in consideration that mushrooms can look different depending on the location and climate. The photos on this page may not be representable for species in your area. Most of the pictures on this site are from northern Europe. Don't eat mushrooms you are not absolute sure you have identified correctly!

TIP. you can enter only a part of the name and all mushrooms fitting the entered string are returned. Try for example with "Boletus" and all mushrooms in the boletus genus are returned.

Search for

Search

The following mushrooms was found by the query:

I like that this website has very detailed information on each mushroom, so users will learn a lot about the various species of mushrooms on the site. However, the site is not very interactive and doesn't present users with the opportunity to test their knowledge. My site will be more interactive and user friendly.